Forth Replacement Crossing

Photography of the construction at the Queensferry Crossing has continued night and day as the skilled workforce carries on 24/7, battling the lovely Scottish summer weather. I enjoyed the crane driver's bird's eye view on the Centre Tower while photographing him for the "People's Bridge Mosaic". Take a photograph of yourself with the bridge in the background and follow the link below!

The bottom pic shows the Southern Approach Viaduct which is launched over the southern piers. It is very hard not to gawp while driving north over the old road bridge.....

My summer happened during the winter in Abu Dhabi where my husband was working, lucky me! Fun in the sun, surrounded by awesome architecture and swim, bike, run opportunities. Although it was a bit alarming when a sea swim was interrupted by fast jets painting love hearts overhead!

Scottish Ambulance Service

I went to Glasgow Airport for the launch of the new Air Ambulance Service: shiny new helicopters and refurbished fixed wing aircraft which will enhance the quality of clinical care. Paramedics explained the key features to Health Secretary Shona Robison. Later the aircraft ventured out of the hangar onto a runway like a mirror.

Petersons in Holland

I photographed and filmed global logistics provider Petersons at its bases in Aberdeen and in Den Helder, Holland. The creative brief was to catch busy boats, cranes, containers, trucks and people working round the clock to serve the North Sea oil industry.

Getty images

I spend spare work time submitting images to stock libraries Getty and Photoshot. There's no point having zillions of images in hard drives when they could be enjoyed by others and bring in some cash. These pics are from my travels in Abu Dhabi. More of my images can be viewed:
